FARMS CALL FOR SOLDIER LABOR

Too Few Returned Men Want to Go Back to the Soil, Reports Say.

Too few returned soldiers want to go back to the farm, according to a statement by Dr. J. T. Ware, in charge of soldier employment for Tennessee.

"In the bigger cities and towns of the state men asking for jobs want to work in the towns," he said. "They would rather owe money and wear stiff collars than roll up their sleeves and work in the farm, remunerative though it be."

The call for farm labor is greater in other sections of the state than locally, according to Dr. Ware, but still there are many places that soldiers may fill in localities where excessive rains have caused grass and weeds to threaten the life of corn and cotton.

On top of the local demand, Oklahoma and Kansas have sent out S. O. S. for help in the harvest fields. The service has been able to direct many men to Southern farms.

Returning soldiers and sailors are being assisted to jobs in all industrial centers in Tennessee. Opportunities of all kinds are needed constantly to place the returning fighters in civil life as rapidly as they apply for jobs.

Eight hundred and sixty persons, including male civilians, women and returned soldiers and sailors, were placed in industrial occupations through the six Tennessee offices of the United States employment service during the week ended June 7, according to the report of Dr. Ware.

The report shows that 1,235 individuals applied for jobs through the government's free bureau; 1,064 were examined and referred to 1,088 employers reporting opportunities; and 816 are known to have been placed in employment.

Payments for the week amounted to 66 per cent. although the woman's division had a record of only 57 per cent. Heavy demands are being made on the U. S. employment service for farm labor, especially in those localities where excessive rains have caused grass and weeds to threaten the life of corn and cotton.

Miss Doherty had made Memphis her home for the past 65 years, coming here from Ireland when 17 years of age. She led a retired life as a devout member of the Sacred Heart church and was beloved by hundreds of friends. For many years she resided with her sister, the late Mrs. Irwin, and of late had resided at the home of George B. Clark, 1034 Monroe avenue. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Theresa Irwin.

MISS CANNON BURIED.

Many of her former pupils and many friends paid last respects to the memory of Miss Honora Cannon, former Memphis teacher, who died here Wednesday after a lingering illness, when funeral services were conducted at the home of Mrs. M. C. Hobson, 1363 Sledge avenue, Thursday morning. The Rev. Troy Beatty, D.D., was the officiating minister. The body was laid to rest in Calvary cemetery. Miss Cannon, about 25 years ago, was primary grade teacher at the High school but later moved to Oxnard, Cal., where she gained recognition as one of the foremost primary department educators on the coast. She was survived by two sisters, Mrs. Walker Kennedy and Mrs. M. C. Hobson, of Memphis, and a brother, R. H. Cannon, of Dallas, Tex.

ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE GETS READY FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

"A HAPPY FAMILY."

Out at St. Peter's beautiful home for children they are preparing busily for the great day.

The kiddies all know about it, and their happiness grows as the day nears. The good sisters are happy, too, and in their hearts there is a great hope, mingled with the faith that the people of Memphis will not fail them in their time of need.

For on July 4 the annual picnic for the benefit of St. Peter's will be given on the spacious lawn of the orphanage, and upon it largely depends the support of the orphanage and the living care of 200 children for the year.

Although the past year has been one of the most successful on record for St. Peter's, it has also been one of the most trying, and its financial resources have been heavily depleted.

If the annual picnic of St. Peter's is as great a success as the good sisters hope it will be, they will be able to realize a long-cherished dream from the babies—one which will make them become healthy, rosy-cheeked youngsters quicker than anything else. They want to extend the small porch to the rear of the orphanage about 20 feet, and to make it 15 feet wide. This will be well-screened, and little baby hammocks will be arranged so that they may have the sunlight and air all through the day, and may be quickly taken back into their ward if it should storm.

For the kiddies who are old enough to know the use of their chubby little legs, there is the wonderful lawn, with its big trees and pavilion, and all through the day they romp and play, carefree monarchs of childhood's realm, not knowing or caring for the heartaches which may come later.

It is like a big family, the good sisters and their little charges, and all who help to make their annual picnic a success may surely feel the silent blessing of those few simple words, "Even as ye have done unto the least of these, ye have done unto me."

BUYS CAR OF TOMATOES.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., June 12 (SpL)—J. T. Wolfe, manager of the Crystal Springs Produce company here, bears the distinction of being the first broker in the vegetable movement here to buy a carload of tomatoes this season. The car contained 1,000 crates of splendid tomatoes, for which Mr. Wolfe paid in cash $1.85 per crate, or $1,850 for the carload.

Mr. Wolfe assigned the car to one of his connections in the Chicago market. The tomatoes for this season are unusually large and of good stock, and do not appear to have suffered materially from the rains that prevailed in the first days of the movement. They are going out daily at the rate of from 25 to 45 carloads per day, and the prices are ranging around $1.25. These prices are very profitable but are not as high as was expected in the early part of the season.

EXHIBITS FINE WHEAT.

W. P. Brown had on exhibition at the Merchants' exchange Thursday some very fine wheat. It was from the plantation of Mrs. W. H. Stovall, of Stovall, Miss., and the stalks were about 6½ feet high with extra heavy heads. It was estimated that the yield would be in the neighborhood of 30 bushels per acre. Mrs. Stovall has about 100 acres of this wheat and cutting will start as soon as the weather gets dry enough.

DO MOTHERS ERR?

When we hear of so many schoolgirls and girls in stores and offices who are often totally unfit to perform their daily duties because of some derangement peculiar to their sex, might this not have been prevented by the mother who, perhaps through neglect or carelessness, failed to get for that daughter the one great root and herb remedy for such ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? This old-fashioned medicine is said to have alleviated more suffering of womanhood than any other remedy known to medicine.
